

8.1. Adapted from Odyssey 9, in which Odysseus tells of his encounter with Polyphemus the Cyclops.

For each sentence, identify the

- a) subject (it may be implied)
- b) verb
- c) direct object (if there is one),
- d) indirect object (if there is one) OR
- e) predicate noun (or adjective) (if there is one).

Sketch a chart like this one (not all sentences will have all parts):

_____ a) _____ | _____ b) _____ | _____ c) _____ \ _____ e _____ _____ d

For example: He drank the bowl of wine .

_____HE_____ | _____DRANK_____ | _____BOWL

- 1) He demanded a second bowl.

- 2) "Tell me your name now, quickly."

(Here you must infer the subject. Who is supposed to do the telling?)

- 3) "I will give (to) my guest a gift."

- 4) "The rains from Zeus build our wine's strength, but this is nectar."

(Here there are two main clauses [sentences] linked by the conjunction “but.”

5) "It flows from heaven."

6) I gave him another fiery bowl.

7) Three bowls he drank to the last drop.

8) "I will tell you my name, but you must give me a guest-gift." (Two main clauses)

9) "I am 'No-one'."
